HCL Connections

Boost productivity and foster innovation with an integrated collaboration solution with HCL Connections

Overview

Connections is a collaboration platform that integrates email, activity and task management, instant messaging, file sharing, collaborative document editing and more into a unified solution. Your teams can access these capabilities from a personalized workspace to communicate, manage work and share tools and resources. Cognitive and analytics technologies enable Connections to learn from your interactions and recommend priorities and actions.

You can now increase productivity and employee engagement with Connections Engagement Suite — it includes Connections Engagement Center, Connections and Connections Docs.

Connections is cloud-based software that integrates online meetings, instant-messaging, file-sharing, collaborative document editing and more in a unified solution. Colleagues, business partners and customers can access these capabilities from a personalized dashboard to manage work, communicate, and prioritize information through analytics. Connections Cloud supports mobile devices and offers the security, simplicity and cost control of a cloud solution.
